The Keyboard controls could really use some work, it actually felt better for me using a Steam Controller, even tho the game does not support controllers. What would really help would be an flight indicator to better target far away platforms.

Overall, it's a fun timewaster and fair for that price.. Suprisingly fun controls are a bit weird but after a bit u get the down. it has no sound effects

And its really hard to play because the controls really Suck

Add better controls pls

. Best game ever. Suprisingly fun controls are a bit weird but after a bit u get the down. Flight to Heaven.

U will die in this game

Flight to Heaven.

U will die in this game. Had this been a free flash game on Newgrounds, it'd still be rather disappointing.

Pros: I frankly can't think of anything that this game does well.

Cons: Bugs galore - you're frequently find yourself falling through platforms, especially if you drop from on high. It seems the momentum just makes you smash right through them. The controls are nothing short of dreadful. They're too sensitive and floaty at all once, and trying to stick a landing makes the platforms feel like they're covered in oil. It took me quite a while to figure out how the point system even worked, as the game doesn't give you any information whatsoever, and to this day I still don't know if the pickups even do anything other than mildly annoy you. The slow-motion one is particularly annoyed, as it's not a smooth transition into real slow-motion, but just feels like you're suddenly playing at a quarter of the framerate. Once you're halfway to 25.000 points, platforms start moving - and apparently the devs didn't know how to make the character move with them, so they just slide away from under you.

Conclusion: I would've gotten tired of this game in 20 minutes if I had found it for free in Miniclip. It's simplistic and poorly put together. Far too amateurish for anyone to actually pay money for it. But I suspect most people who own this got it through bundles or something similar.

Achievements: Simple enough, but dreadful to get. Getting to 25.000 points involves reaching the point where the platforms get smaller, are further away from each other, and move. It's not a particularly fun game to get a quick 100% on. If you're considering buying this just for the chieives, don't bother.. Best game ever. it has no sound effects

Add better controls pls

. Not the best indie game and I wouldn't really call it a strategy game, I guess it may be fun for the first 5 mins of the game, but it wasn't enjoyable to me.. I remember when using the keyboard to move the camera became obsolete, this game doesnt. Trash, dont buy. The controls are way to slippery to make this game fun.. It's a very successful game. You mostly get frustrated but the feel after the success...incredible!
